REV. A. FORBES, of Fort Saskatchewan, preached in the Presbyterian church last evening.

FINLAY MACDONALD's thrasher was still at work on the north side of the Sturgeon on Thursday last.

STENOGRAPHIC exhibition in the Methodist church this evening, by Rev. G. W. Dean. Admission 25c.

The Edmonton general hospital is nearly completed and will be formally opened on Sunday, December 15th.

SATURDAY was a beautiful winter day. Perfectly calm, only moderately cold and with splendid sleighing. Business was consequently good.

COPIES of the December number of Harper's Magazine containing Casper W. Whitney's account of his trip to the barren grounds in search of musk or last winter, have reached Edmonton. The article is interesting, but imaginative in some minor particulars.

C. W. MATHERS' Christmas souvenir is on a larger and more elaborate scale than any of his previous efforts. Some fifty views are given, both interesting and beautiful, the whole forming the most complete and attractive collection of views of Edmonton that has yet been produced. The price is only $1.50, or about 3c. a view.

The material is on the ground for the new bridge across the Saskatchewan at both upper and lower sites, but is not yet entirely in place. On Friday three teams broke through at the lower crossing, but were got out without injury. Light sleighs crossed on Thursday night and Friday, and loaded sleighs will likely cross to-day. It will be four straight weeks to-night since the ferries first ceased running.

South Edmonton News Nov. 20: "If you ask some men for an advertisement they will tell you they don't think it pays, as people never read the paper. But if the same person does anything he would not like the public to know, he makes his way to the printing office and offers almost any price to not have his misdeed published." What price did the News charge in the last case that came under its notice? It does not advertise its special rates for cases of this kind.

K. A. McLeod, W. S. Robertson, F. M. Robertson and J. V. Carpenter returned on Friday from a deer hunt up the river near the Big Island. The weather was too stormy during their visit for successful hunting as the deer did not move out much. Messrs. McLeod and W. S. Robertson got on the track of a large buck, but failed to get him. Friday was calm and on the way home the party saw numerous tracks in the woods south of Stony Plain, but could not delay to follow them.

JAS. WALSH returned on Thursday's train from a fur buying trip to Morley. Mr. Walsh will celebrate his 79th birthday on the twelfth of December next. He is still in active business life, being the trusted agent in Northern Alberta for Joseph Ullman & Sons, the great fur dealers of St. Paul, New York, London & Liverpool. And it may be remarked that the business of buying fur is one that requires the keenest faculties; not only a knowledge of the quality of the furs offered for sale, and of the markets past, present and future, but also of the ideas on these subjects of competitive purchasers. Mr. Walsh has lived a most active life, having mined for years in California and British Columbia; and looks as if he had a long lease of active life still ahead of him, as he is enjoying much better health now than for some years past.

LYNX, fisher, and mink are reported more plentiful than usual this season.

The Hockey and skating rink was flooded successfully on Saturday and the curling rink is being flooded to-day.

PENNY READINGS entertainment in Houston's hall on Friday evening in aid of the Presbyterian church organ fund.

TURNBULL & McADAM have leased from M. McCauley the building which was formerly the Methodist parsonage and will move it out to Jasper avenue for use as an auction mart.

R. L. HUGHSON, of Vermillion, is in town making arrangements to erect a storage room in connection with his cheese factory there and to open a general store. He leaves for home to-morrow.

THE anniversary services in connection with the Edmonton Methodist church were held on Sunday last. Rev. M. A. Goodwin, of South Edmonton, preached the morning sermon, and Rev. G. W. Dean the evening service.

OPENING entertainment in Sturgeon Methodist church to-morrow, Friday, evening. Tea will be served and Rev. Mr. Dean, of Edmonton, will give his lecture "A trip through the Rockies," illustrated by stereopticon views.

The new Methodist church at Sturgeon river was formally opened yesterday. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. G. W. Dean, of Edmonton, the afternoon sermon by Rev. A. Forbes, of Fort Saskatchewan, and the evening sermon by Rev. A. Whitesides, of Edna.

THURSDAY'S train brought one car groceries for Mackenzie, Powis & Co. from Winnipeg; one car salt for Mackenzie, Powis & Co. from Fort William; one car groceries from Turner, McKeand & Co., Winnipeg; one car flour for Farrell & Co., St. Albert, from Winnipeg; one way car.

HADDON'S steam thrasher ceased work for the season on Saturday, Nov. 23rd. The grain threshed would amount to 50,000 bushels. The yield was light, owing greatly to the fall of snow which took place in September, and which lodged the grain, causing it to shell badly when it was being harvested.

THE anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church, South Edmonton, were held on Sunday last. The morning sermon was preached by Rev. A. Forbes, of Fort Saskatchewan, the children's sermon in the afternoon was preached by Rev. A. Macdonald and the evening sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. McQueen.

E. W. HUBBELL, D. L. S., and party arrived on Saturday from Ponoka, where they had been doing some government survey work. Mr. Hubbell completed the survey of the Hay lakes trail from South Edmonton to Hay lakes before leaving for Ponoka. He leaves for Ottawa on Tuesday, having completed his work for the season.

R. SECORD has just received from Montreal a fur coat which is both rare, serviceable and handsome. It is made of the skins of musk ox calves. The fur somewhat resembles beaver in color and is very fine and soft. Mr. Secord received the skins from his northern trading posts and had them dressed and made up into a coat and cap in Montreal.

SOCIAL.—In connection with the Young People's Society of the Methodist church, a "Quaker" social was held on Friday evening at Mr. C. W. Mathers' art gallery. A large number of young people and their friends attended. The usual parlor games were indulged in, the one most in favor being the Edmonton "Bean Bag" game, in which most of those present took part. Considerable curiosity was expressed as to why it was called a Quaker social. One or two of the ladies were addressing each other as "thee" and "thou," but the general curiosity was not satisfied until the Rev. Mr. Dean called order and announced that after he resumed his seat the first person to speak would be fined 50 cents, and the second 35 cents, the next ten 25 cents each and after that a collection would be taken. Dr. Goodwin won distinction by first speaking and paying 50 cents for his tenacity. The total collection was $6.

FUR.

Fur buyers complain that a great deal of poor fur has been caught this fall, and is now being offered for sale. Several lots that have already been purchased here would have brought from two to three times as much had they been prime. This is a loss to the trapper, the trader, the buyer and the country generally. Owing to the drop in prices at the last London sales buyers are offering from twenty to twenty-five per cent. lower prices than last season at this time and are not so keen to buy until there is some prospect of what prices will be at the next sales which take place in January. Fur is reported plentiful, especially coyotes. Rabbits are undoubtedly scarcer than last winter. This may not seriously affect the catch of fur this winter, but certainly will affect next winter's catch.

LETTER OF THANKS.

The Sisters of Charity, of the Edmonton general hospital, most gratefully acknowledge receipt of the very acceptable sum of $222.75,—proceeds of the "Charity" entertainment,—given on the 6th inst., for the benefit of the new hospital. The sisters realize that no words could adequately convey their feelings of gratitude to all those who have so generously taken part in, and contributed towards, that charitable undertaking.

The money was handed to the Sister Superior, on Wednesday evening, 27th inst., by Messdames Launder, Cowie, S. S. Taylor and Jackson. The sisters beg that these ladies, as well as the other ladies of the town, each and all, accept this too feeble expression of thanks, for the many sacrifices accepted by all; the untiring efforts of the ladies and gentlemen, who so readily and so generously patronized this good work; that they understand and try to substantiate these words of a loving Saviour: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto these, the least of my brethren, ye did it unto me."

We Want It

DISTINCTLY UNDERSTOOD that we were not open for business here a hundred years ago; that we never took advantage of a corner on goods to the detriment of our customers and the general public; and we are not fishing for free advertising.

But You Know

We had something to do with the lowering of prices in general merchandise. And we see by the amount of business we do that the public generally appreciate it.

WE DEFY COMPETITION

Our prices are lower than ever. This store is filled to overflowing, and a few dollars judiciously spent will ward off the rigor of the coldest winter.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, DECEMBER 1st, 1896

NORTH AND SOUTH ALBERTA.

The question of the division of the electoral district of Alberta is one that is properly up for discussion just now. The population of the present district is almost sufficient to entitle it to a division according to the strict letter of the law, while the immense area, the importance of the interests involved and the diversity of those interests necessitate the division that the population warrants. More or less definite promises of a division have been made from time to time by those who were more or less entitled to make the promises, but like promises have been made before and broken, so that we have no sure thing on the present promises. However, if there is a prospect of justice being done in this matter—if the question of the division is settled—the next question is the line upon which the division is to be made. If the diversity of interests between the north and south is the important reason for making the division the line of division, naturally, should be as nearly as possible at the point where the diverse interests meet. The MacLeod Gazette suggested that the C. P. R. should be the dividing line. This would be manifestly unfair to the city of Calgary, which would thus be cut into two unequal parts and its influence as a factor in the election, weakened very greatly, if not practically destroyed. Besides the C. P. R. is not by any means the dividing line between the grazing industry of the south and the farming industry of the north. The grazing region extends considerably north of the C. P. R. line. On the other hand a Calgary paper suggested the Red Deer river as the proper boundary. This is as far out, as a fair boundary, as the C. P. R. would be. The farming country extends for at least forty miles south of Red Deer and takes in the region surrounding Olds. To cut this section of farming country off from the main body of the farming country of the north would be as unjust as the cutting off of a part of the city of Calgary from the ranching and irrigation region in which it is so vitally interested. To divide the farming from the ranching country the line of division should be somewhere between Carstairs and Olds stations on the C. & E. line, from 40 to 50 miles north of Calgary. This would also give a fairly equal division of the population of the present district. If, as is suggested and as would be very suitable, the ranching country of the Cypress hills in Western Assiniboia were added to the ranching district of Southern Alberta, to place the dividing line at the Red Deer would be to give the southern district much the larger population. Not that the people of the northern part of Northern Alberta need object to the smaller district in one way, but in another it would be much better for the representative of the north to be able to speak for the whole of the north rather than for only a part of it, although the larger part. If the diversity of interests is the reason of the division let the line be where the interests divide.

CONDENSE THE PRODUCTS.

The kindly and appreciative article of the Winnipeg Commercial, which appears elsewhere in this issue, is worthy of careful attention by the producers of the district. The long distance from the market of the world demands that if Edmonton products are to compete in that market the freight must be reduced to the lowest point by reducing bulk and increasing value. This is a general rule that it would be well to keep in mind. The Commercial says that butter, cheese and hogs form a strong combination and go well together. In order that they shall return the greatest proportion of value to the producers the condensation of bulk must take place as near as possible to the point of production. If the butter and cheese and bacon is made ready for market at Edmonton, there is a greater margin of profit for the farmer than if the railroad company took off its share on the greater bulk in getting the rough product to a distant point of manufacture. That is why creameries should be established wherever practicable rather than that dairy butter should be shipped out to be repacked at the consuming centre; and also why it is better to pack pork right at Edmonton than to ship the live hogs by rail to be packed elsewhere. Just as it is better for the farmer that the wheat should be ground into flour right here than that it should be shipped out and that the oats should be made into oatmeal here rather than that freight out should be paid on the raw oats. Any enterprise which tends to condense the products of the farm and so reduce the freight charges, is deserving of the encouragement of the farming community. While there is a constant strife between the buyer and seller, there is also a certain community of interest, for if the buyer does not make a profit he cannot pay the seller a price, and if the seller does not produce the buyer cannot do business. Other things being equal the home industry should have the preference, in order that more capital may be induced to invest in the various lines of condensation of farm products; and competition thereby be increased, methods improved and prices raised.

The Calgary Herald in a recent burst of editorial candor says:

Can it be said that the C. P. R. are today operating that line (the C. & E.) to its best advantage? Or properly maintaining its road bed or rolling stock? The rates are almost prohibitive; no body is encouraged to use it and those who travel on it only do so because they have to. The amount of passenger travel by rail along the route of this railway would surprise the officials in the east, were they aware of it.

This is pretty severe criticism applied to an enterprise which on the plea of being a colonization road received privileges and concessions which netted the speculators 100 per cent. on their investment; upon which profit the road must now earn a dividend as well as upon its actual cost, before a case can be made out to the satisfaction of the government railway commission that the settlers are entitled to a reduction of rates. This is a case in which certain legislative action has produced certain definitely injurious results to the people of this district as set forth in the above quotation from the Herald; and yet the Herald supports the legislators who passed the objectionable legislation. It is useless to complain of the result if the cause is not attacked.

The Prince Albert Times states that Supt. Mohat held an investigation into the case of the escape from Duck lake of the Indian who shot Sgt. Colebrooke and decided that the blame lay on Constable Dickson, and sentenced him to two months imprisonment. It continues: "Commissioner Herchner, however, took a different view of the affair, and laid two charges against Sergt. Keenan, who was in charge of the police detachment there, and he immediately went to Duck lake, held an investigation, found Sergt. Keenan guilty and reduced him to the ranks." Keenan had been in the force 22 years and had rendered such satisfactory service that the citizens of Prince Albert petitioned to have him made an inspector. The petition, however, was withheld at Keenan's request. The Times charges that the action of the commissioner is due to a long standing spite owing to Keenan having said he would vote for Laird at the general elections of 1887, or in other words because Keenan was an avowed liberal in politics. If the grave digging punishment awarded Dickson and the degradation of Keenan are fair samples of the justice meted out to members of the force by the commissioner it would seem that he is qualifying himself to succeed his predecessor at the head of the police force in the wardenship of the penitentiary rather than trying to supply the Northwest with a self-respecting and efficient body of conservators of the peace.

THE HUDSON'S BAY COMPANY

INCORPORATED 1670,

Is not, as may be supposed, an antiquated and fossilised institution, but a live, modern, up-to-date business enterprise, placing two and a quarter centuries' experience at the service of the public.

Our stock comprises:

Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots & Shoes
Groceries and Provisions,
Wines, Spirits and Cigars, Crockery and Glassware.

Of these we carry a complete and varied assortment, carefully selected, to cover all known and anticipated requirements of the district, and besides we are always prepared, through our wide-spread connections and exceptional facilities, to place any unusual order to the best advantage.

The advantages we offer are:

We import direct—we buy first hand, almost invariably from the manufacturers, and pay cash for all our purchases.

We renew often—our goods are always fresh, seasonable, and up to date.

We secure the lowest freight rates on all we import, as we always handle carloads when desirable.

We have no accumulation of old stocks to palm off on the unsuspecting—we have less old goods on our shelves than will be found in any hap-hazard and unsystematic store.

Our expenses are low and are carefully proportioned to our business.

Our margin of profit is very low and carefully adjusted—we never price our goods at what they will stand but at the lowest figures at which we can afford to sell them.

We are therefore doing business on the best business principles and under the most advantageous conditions and place these advantages at the service of our customers. Our effort is not merely to sell our goods but to satisfy purchasers and give them the best value obtainable.

Special attention is given to orders by mail. When inconvenient to make your purchases personally, write us, giving a full description of goods wanted, and prompt delivery will be made in accordance with your instructions. You will effect as good a bargain thus as you would personally. Cash should accompany all orders for shipment by mail, but express parcels may be C. O. D.

A new livery stable sprung up here like a mushroom about two weeks ago. It is a large substantial building, conveniently arranged and neatly finished. Schmoeck & Dolmage, proprietors. Their new office and dwelling is also being finished.

G. I. Clink has also laid a foundation for a livery barn, which he intends erecting in the near future. Judging from the foundation it will be a large barn also.

We understand it is the intention of Mr. Jas. Davidson to erect a dwelling house next month.

Mrs. Jas. Davidson arrived from Dakota last week.

Mr. Van Alstein has put in a small stock of underclothing, etc., and is handling the Salvation army tea. He talks of putting in more stock later on.

Jas. M. Mair has added a stock of tea to his baking and confectionary business.

The merchants here are paying 25c. trade for good oats and 20c. cash.

Good sleighing and cold weather now, and the hunters are making the coyotes suffer.

Wm. Burris, postmaster, is getting the office building ceiled upstairs and down and the family will live there this winter. As soon as it is finished they intend moving in from the farm.

D. G. Stewart & Co. have traded to H. Kollerman for the lot where the livery barn was burned and intend building on it next spring.

The local demand for butter is greater than the supply at present.

THE FREE PRESS HEDGES.

Free Press: Our excellent and esteemed contemporary, the Edmonton BULLETIN works itself into a passion because the Free Press has ventured to suggest that a second Pacific railway is not necessary. "It is indeed an evil day for the Northwest," it says, "when its leading newspaper can say so." But we are open to conviction, and if the necessity exists the BULLETIN, which is conducted with great ability and intelligence, should be able to make it manifest. This it has not done and neither has Mr. Nelson. Another Pacific railway could not be built without heavy subsidies in public money and lands, and why these should be voted when the road is not needed is more than the Free Press can make out. However, if our contemporary will demonstrate its necessity we shall be glad to give it such assistance as we can.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Commercial quotes oats at 10c. to 15c. a bushel at country points in Manitoba.

Boulter & Co., a leading fruit canning firm, recently shipped a train load of canned goods to the Pacific coast. This speaks well for Ontario enterprise and very much resembles the shipment of coals to Newcastle.

The C. P. R. is backing the building of an extension of its " Soo " line into Chicago. The Canada Pacific road should be rechristened. There will soon be more miles of it in the United States than in Canada. It has always been run for United States traffic rather than Canadian.

In Montreal the butter market has dropped about 1c. to 1 1/2c. owing to the sudden collapse of the export demand. Sales are reported of 450 tubs of creamery at 22c. to 22 1/2c. for last half of September and beginning of October make, and at 23c. for 100 tubs of last half of October. Earlier makes are quoted at 23 1/2c. to 24c. Rolls are arriving more freely and selling at 16c. to 18c. in boxes and tubs.

Battleford Herald, Nov. 22: An inch of snow fell on Monday morning, 18th, and a little more on Wednesday, but not enough for sleighing. The output of the Lakeside creamery this year was upward of fifteen thousand pounds. About eight thousand pounds were taken for local consumption, the balance going to British Columbia.

Contrary to what was stated early in the season on what was taken to be good authority, that on account of the condition of the settlers around the northern lakes the close season for whitefish would be made to end on November 15, it is still held to be on December 15.

Winnipeg Commercial, Nov. 23rd: The weather has been decidedly wintry this week and the cold nip has largely increased the consumptive demand for dry goods and clothing, winter footwear, manufactured furs, etc. The season has been favorable for this class of goods, an early spell of cold weather being greatly appreciated in these branches. The grain trade has quieted down some this week. Farmers' deliveries have fallen off, owing to lower prices and bad roads in the west, where snow has made the roads bad. In some of the eastern districts of Manitoba the roads are better now. At Winnipeg there has not been more than enough snow yet to whiten the ground. The shipping demand for wheat has been quieting owing to lower prices. Shipments by the lake route will be made for a week or more yet, though shipping by water is very uncertain after this date. The reduction of 3 cents per bushel in all rail grain freights from Manitoba points to Atlantic ports, will help shipments after the close of navigation, but even after allowing for this reduction in all rail freight rates, the winter rate will still be 6c. to 7c. higher than the lake route, so that the tendency is in favor of a further reduction in prices of wheat here, unless outside markets improve shortly. Scarcely any coarse grain has gone out of the country yet, but about 9,000,000 bushels of wheat have gone out to date, which is a little more than for the same date last year. There is a good demand for men for the woods and there is no scarcity of work of this class for men. Bank clearings at Winnipeg continue to largely exceed last year, this weeks clearings being 21 per cent greater than the corresponding week of 1894. Interest rates are steady at about 7 to 8 per cent, for ordinary mercantile paper. Mortgage loans are usually made at 7 per cent, for the city and 8 per cent, for small farm loans. In special cases loans have been obtained at 6 per cent.

Winnipeg Commercial: The Commercial is pleased to observe that a pork packing industry is being established in Northern Alberta. This is as it should be. It will be found more profitable to turn coarse grain into beef, pork, poultry, butter, etc., than to ship them. Owing to the great distance which that district is from any large consuming market, the settlers are doing well to consider these matters. By condensing their products in this way, they will be enabled to make a great saving in freight. Northern Alberta is more favorably situated than Manitoba to supply the British Columbia markets with these products. Butter, cheese and bacon form a strong combination and they go well together. Any country which can make a success in the production of these commodities, need never suffer severely from hard times. We think Northern Alberta can make a success in the production of these goods, and it will certainly be better than depending on grain alone.

ST. ANDREW'S DINNER.

St. Andrew's day (Saturday, Nov. 30th) was celebrated in Edmonton by the Scotchmen of the town and district with a dinner at the Queen's hotel. The St. Andrew's society met at 7:30 in the evening in the council chamber for the installation of officers for the ensuing year. The session report was read and adopted and the members of the society then marched to the Queen's hotel headed by the piper, Thos. Houston. Dinner was served at 8:30 and about sixty members of the Edmonton St. Andrew's society and their guests sat down to the well-laden tables in the dining room of the Queen's. G. J. Kinnaird, president of the society occupied the head of the table, with S. Lorne, president of the St. Jean Baptiste society and Mayor Wilson on his right and D. Ross, president of the Old Timers association and F. Oliver, M. L. A., on his left. The vice-chairs were occupied by W. S. Edmiston, vice-president of the society, and Thos. Houston, piper, in full Highland costume. Grace was said by the chaplain, Rev. D. G. McQueen, and the company fell to on a most excellent and varied repast, in which the traditional haggis, herring and oat cake figured prominently alongside of roast turkey, chicken and venison, jellies and trifles, and all the variety of substantial and dainties that the country, aided under contribution by the manager of the Queen's, could furnish. The haggis, herring and oat cake were either so well compounded and cooked, or so thoroughly disguised, as to be equal to any of the other numbers on the very extensive programme.

When the table exercises had been concluded to the satisfaction of all concerned the president proposed the only toast of the evening, "The Queen," and then read the following address:

Gentlemen—We are met together to-night to celebrate the national anniversary of the land of our forefathers, who a good many centuries ago adopted St. Andrew as their patron saint. It is a pity that so little is now known of the life of St. Andrew. That he was a gentleman like his friend St. Patrick there is no room to doubt, as the consistency of his life is sufficient proof. He might have been "death on snakes" to the same extent—some people think that Scotchmen would not have developed their partiality for whiskey if he had been—but we know sufficient about St. Patrick, however, to appreciate the justice of the high esteem and veneration that Scotchmen have awarded him throughout the ages; a course which we are still proud to continue. It is a matter of history that he was the first disciple of Our Saviour and that he remained true unto death; a glorious example which many of our countrymen have followed.

It is not, however, so much St. Andrew as the country we wish to commemorate to-night—the glorious land of bag pipes and Burns, cakes and haggis, heather and haggis, soda scones and Sabbath, white stanes and whiskey. Scotland is famous for a good many other things, and a great many other men, but we needn't enumerate them now. The haggis, Burns, cakes, haggis, soda scones and heather are all here with us to-night; the Sabbath will be here in a jiffy, and we'll be cautious with the whiskey that we may not make closer acquaintance with the stanes.

To-night Scotchmen are celebrating this day throughout the whole world; and there is no part of the world in which you will not find the country represented. Perhaps, at the north pole, a solitary Scot is just regulating on a cake shop haggis of tripe du rocher and pulley baggie, "If so I'll guarantee he'll stay with the country" and some of his countrymen will soon join him. He may be able to form a St. Andrew's society before the year is out and we may hear from him at any time asking for a copy of our constitution.

This wandering propensity of Scotchmen is the result of the national development and not a blind following of a mere animal instinct. The "grim old Scotland" of our forefathers, dependent upon brain and muscle, sharp wit and sharper broadwords to hold its place amongst the nations, is not the poverty stricken country it once was, but is now possessed of considerable financial resources; and this great wealth has been acquired by honest and straight forward means, from the surplus of other nations through the adaptability of her countrymen.

It is not for more wealth alone that she ranks high amongst the nations of the world. She has other and more substantial claims to universal esteem; for after all "The rank is not the grime's stamp, the man's the gowd for a' that." And such names as Burns, Scott, Carlyle and, I may add, our own Sir John A. Macdonald, will shine through future ages with a lustre which mere wealth can never give.

That we have a right to be, and are proud of our country, we are at no pains to conceal. Let us hope that we will never disgrace it, and that it may always have as good reason to be proud of us.

J. B. Turnbull read the toast of the Queen as proposed by a Scottish farmer. W. McAdam gave an original song with local allusions. Jas. Johnston sang "The Highlandman's toast." Thos. Houston and H. Andrews gave several Scottish airs on the violin and accordion. S. Lorne sang "Annie Laurie" and in response to an encore gave "O Canada." R. McIntyre sang "Scotland I love thee." Rev. D. G. McQueen gave a short address. Jas. Houston sang "Flow gently sweet Afton." D. Ross made a short speech and sang "Billy Deane the poet." Messrs. McIntyre and McAdam sang "The Rose tree." Jas. Johnston sang "Our Kail Yaird." J. B. Turnbull read a Scotchman's prayer. Thos.

Houston and T. Andrews gave several selections on the violin and accordion. Jas. Houston sang "Scotland yet." W. McAdam sang "Oh bring to me a pint of wine." A. McNeill recited "The waggish traveller." D. Ross sang "Joe Bowers," and an encore. R. McIntyre sang "Up in the morning early." The proceedings were concluded shortly before twelve o'clock by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The following are the greetings sent by Edmonton to St. Andrew's societies in other places:

TO CALGARY.

Two three Scotch callants gathered here, Mang haggis reek an' routh o' cheer Send greetings tae oor neebour dear On this St. Andrew's night.

TO RUSSELL.

Edmonton birklies to Russell friends Send a message o'er the plain Let Scotland flourish and a' her weans Her memory dear maintain.

TO WINNIPEG.

The night is cauld but the haggis het, A wheen Scotch lads thegither met Wi' wames weel filled an' wits fu' gleg Their greetings send tae Winnipeg.

Free Press, Nov. 26: The Rev. Lord Archibald Douglas, brother of the Marquis of Queensbury, and priest of the Roman Catholic diocese of Southwark, England, arrived in the city on Saturday, accompanied by the Rev. Father St. John, secretary of the bishop of Southwark, whose business here is in connection with the establishment of a farm for immigrants. The reverend fathers will be the guests of His Grace the Archbishop of St. Boniface during their stay in Winnipeg. Lord Douglas occupied the pulpit of St. Mary's church on Sunday evening.
